LISTENING & RESPONDING SUPPORTIVELY TO ACCOUNTS OF SEXUAL MISCONDUCT

3 Workshops

WORKSHOPS

1. Am I Ready to Listen 101?
   In this 60-min. workshop, you will reflect on the multiple variables that impact how to respond when someone wants to disclose to you an account of sexual misconduct. You’ll consider those variables; you’ll also learn language to communicate your decision supportively and to offer available resources.

2. So…I Have to Report 101
   In this hands-on 45-minute workshop, you will learn how to let someone know, in a clear and supportive way, that you are a Responsible Employee (RE). RE includes UNM Faculty, Staff, Teaching Assistants, and Graduate Assistants. This designation requires that any report of sexual misconduct made must be reported to the Office of Equal Opportunity. How and when you communicate that you are a RE can tremendously impact the person disclosing.

3. Supportive Listening 101: Listening and Responding Supportively to Accounts of Sexual
   In this 30-min. presentation, you’ll learn the essential DOs and DON’Ts for listening supportively without causing unintentional harm. You’ll be introduced to 4 basic tools to help you foster a safe and supportive environment for those speaking up about sexual violence and misconduct.

Note: Although the workshops do not talk about the details of sexual violence, we do talk about disclosures of sexual violence.

WHY: Because research shows that the impact of negative responses to disclosure can be more harmful than the effects of nondisclosure.

WHO: The entire UNM community. Please feel free to share this information with others who may be interested.

HOW + WHEN: Email Anne Lightsey, Associate Ombuds, at alight01@unm.edu to schedule a presentation or workshop for your group, team, or department.
